THE REMAINS FOUND IN THE ZINC TRUNK

Those of Preller Beyond Any Shadow of Doubt-Damaging Evidence Against Maxwell.

St. Louis, May 21.—The interest in the Maxwell case continues undiminished, and at the opening of the procurious spectators exceeded that in at-tendance on any previous day. This was due, however, to the fact that a witness was to be examined who had positively identified the body found in the sine trunk at the Southern Hotel as that of C. Arthur Preiler. This witness proved to be J. A. Frazer photographer, but now a portrait-painter and sculptor. Mr. Frazer was placed on the stand and testified that the standard placed on the standard placed placed on the standard placed placed on the standard placed place ago last February; he described Prelier as he kn-w him then, and exhibited a portratt of him which had been painted by the witness; it had been pronounced an excellent like-

Make Haste to Defend Yourself If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safeguards-Hostetter's Siomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections-and they are valid ones-which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective and its effects are not evanescent, but lastand its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and fertile—which at no searon of the year are entirely exempt from the malarial secures. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past thirty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheematism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT DECLARING POLYGAMY UNLAWFUL.

What Judge Tucker of the House Judiciary Committee Thinks of the Measure.

WASHINGTON, May 21 .- The House Committee on the Judiciary to-day instructed Chairman Tucker to report favorably an amendment to the con-stitution declaring polygamy unlaw-ful. There was but one member of the committee who did not agree to the sction of the committee, and he only desired further time to consider it. The following is the full text of the amendment as it will be reported:

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT. Resolved, etc., That it is deemed necessary by the two houses of Congress to propose an amendment to the onstitution which shall be valid to constitution which shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of the constitution when ratified as hereby proposed by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several States the proposed amendment to be numbered and to read as follows, to wit:

ARTICLE XVI. - First - The merriage relation, by contract or in fact, by one person of either sex and more by one person of either sex and more than one person of the other sex shall be deemed polygamy. Neither polygamy nor any polygamous association or cohabitation between the sexes shall exist or be lawful in any place within the jurisdiction of the United States or any of the States.

Second.—The United States shall not, nor shall any State, make or enforce nor shall any State, make or enforce any law which shall allow polygamy or any polygamous association or co-habitation between the sexes, but the United States and every State shall prohibit the same by law within their respective including respective jurisdiction.

Third.—The judicial power of the United States thall extend to the prosecution of the crimes of polygamy ment therefor.

Fourth.-Nothing in the constitution Fourth.—Nothing in the constitution nor in this article shall be construed to deny any State the exclusive power, and by its great tonic power subject to the provision of this article, to make and enforce all laws concerning marriage and divorce, within its the worn, weary body, and in juri-diction, or to vest in the United cases of general debility its re-States any power respecting the same

JUDGE TUCKER,

chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said to an Associated Press reporter: "The committee will report the amendment on Monday, and will then probably take up the Edmunds Utah bill. The subcommittee have consid-ered the Edmunds bill, and will submit their views to the full committee, which will meet hereafter as often as practicable. The Edmunds bill will be greatly modified, but I am not prepared to say, until action by the full committee, in what respect. I will say, however, that it will not be in a way materially to change the policy of the government in reference to polygamy, but the effort will be, while condemning the crime of polygamy, to do so in consistency with the consttu'ional law and with respect to the liberties of the people affected. The amendment to the constitution proposed by the committee was intended to define the crime of polygamy and the like as treason, as intended by the cons itution itself, so that elemens in the definition of the offense will be left to Congressional action. Having defined the crime, lest it should continue or be revived in a new State when it ceased to be a territory, the amendment gives Congre s the power to punish the crime created by this article and to the courts of the United States the power to try it. Then, in order to prevent any inference in favor of the power of Congress to interfere in the general law of each State as to marriage and divorce; the amendment further provides that no construction shall be given to it which would deny to each State the exclusive power to regulate that class of questions or to give any such power to Congress The amendment, therefore, while serving as a remedy for the crime, even in the States themselves, is entirely conservative of the power of the States over the important do-m stic relations of the family. The amendment was framed for the purpose of throwing weight of itself against polygamy, as the present con-stitution makes it that any State comes into the Union, as well as those already in it, shall be Republican in their form of government, so this amendment provides that every State in the Union shall be American in its t pe of society and not Asiat'c. That is, the State shall be Republican as to their form of government and monogamists as to their social life Judge Tucker said that he had given the amendment thorough and meture consideration. The subcommittee and then the full committee had agreed to it after full consideration, and it had m-t with general approval from perhaps fifty members of Congress to whom it had been shown, and on whose judgment he could rely. He intended to try and secure spredy and thorough consideration for it by Con-

To gain the lasting confidence of people in any enterprise or merchandise they must have the advantage of truthful statement, honorable representation and merit well announced. To gain the confidence of the oft deceived and long suffering public in any medicine for general use, its merit must be strongly substantiated by exhaustive trial and a large number of cases in which it has done the work claimed for it. That this is the case with

Brown's Iron Bitters we can demonstrate. For years it has been before the public as the only thoroughly scientific Iron medicine known. It has been recommended as a safe and speedy cure for all impurities of the blood and diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys and Liver. That it is a medicine of undoubted and unequaled merit is best evidenced by the fact that we have never received a communication from a single individual who had failed to obtain benefit from its use. On the other hand we have endorsements of the highest character from thousands who have used it and been cured. The merit of the preparation has won CONFIDENCE and will continue to hold it.

After long experiment and the employment of the highest chemical skill to combine Iron with the best vegetable alteratives without the use of whisky, success crowned the efforts of the Brown Chemical Co. and resulted and of a colygamous association or cohabitation between the sexes under this a ticle, and Congress shall have power to de lare by law the punish eases arising from an impure, strengthens the nerves, builds up the worn, weary body, and in viving and vivifying work is perfect. Dyspepsia and Indigestion claim for their victims a large number of active business men. They yield their horrors to the use of Brown's Iron. Bitters. It promotes Digestion and cures Dyspepsia. The sales throughout the country have increased twenty times in five years. This shows what the merit of the article WINS for it. Children can use it as safely as adults. It will not injure or discolor the teeth. Will not cause Headache or Constipation. Physicians and Chemists who know its merits recommend it. Its position is so secure and so well known that it is imitated. Don't be deceived. What is contained in the imitation bottles though seemingly the same is not like Brown's Iron Bitters, and will only be recommended where it pays the dealer more profit.
